2 Visitors, a "Beef",
and We Promise to Do Better

Your editor was at the newspaper office Saturday night when a pickup truck rolled to a stop across the street and two young fellows got out and walked through our doorway.

It developed they were local citizens and they had a "beef."

They were Harold Allen and J. W. Reilly, and their complaint was this:

Allen and Reilly are directors of the Arkansas Poultry Federation and they had only that minute returned from an all-day meeting of the federation in Little Rock. In the convention various towns were praised for the support given the recent celebration of "Eat More Chicken Week"—but Hope wasn't among those noted for special enthusiasm, according to the conventioners.

The local men brought back a copy of the Russellville Courier-Democrat, a 12-page edition with an 8-page section devoted exclusively to "Eat More Chicken Week."

Russellville was given a vote of thanks by the convention for an unusually successful tribute to the poultry industry.

Well, there was the "beef"—the Hope area has a new and expanding industry, the broiler business, and maybe it isn't getting the public appreciation rightly due it.

And then, looking through the Russellville paper, we found a curious admission. The paper said that as late as seven years ago, "this couldn't have happened in Russellville."

The broiler business is new also in Russellville, but still something older than Hope's.

But the facts about the broiler industry in the Hope trade area are worth repeating here and now. We have a total of 75 broiler houses, and their annual sales are in excess of $600,000.

That's a truly important slice of this region's daily bread, and we should do better by it the next time we celebrate "Eat More Chicken Week."

Allen and Reilly went on to say that the Little Rock meeting did pass a general resolution of praise for all local chambers of commerce and other community units for the work they did on this year's "Week."

The idea of "Eat More Chicken Week" was exclusively for Arkansas—but it got the state nationwide publicity.

U. S., Japan Sign Mutual Defense Pact

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the United States today signed a mutual defense pact to give the Japanese both guns and grain and hasen the day when American soldiers can withdraw from the island empire.

The mutual defense assistance agreement — actually a series of agreements — will pour 100 million dollars of American aid into Japan's economy in the next three months and probably amount to much more in the long run.

U. S. Ambassador John Allison said the agreement "takes us one step nearer the time when the United States can withdraw its forces from Japan."

Japanese Foreign Minister Katsumi Okazaki signed for his government.

The agreement will boost Japan's defense force from 120,000 to 160,000 men, and hold it along more military lines. The United States will supply ships and planes.

The United States also will start the movement of 500,000 tons of surplus wheat and 100,000 tons of barley to Japan. And Japan will sell the grain domestically and in turn use the money for guns and munitions.

The agreement was hammered out in eight months of negotiation which at times brought the Liberal government of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida under intense opposition criticism. Despite Socialist opposition, the government expects ratification by April 1.

Allison emphasized that the pact does not require Japan "to send its young men abroad." He quote Secretary of State Dulles who said recently the agreement would be "purely of a defensive nature, directed exclusively toward contributing to the defense and security of the Japanese homeland."

Negro Youth, 14, Admits Breaking Into Cafe-Store

City Police have arrested a 14-year-old Negro boy for breaking into Metcalf's Grocery and Store the night of February 22. The youth stole only $1.50. He admitted the act when questioned, City Police said.

Officers identified the boy through a fingerprint on a broken window. He will be given a hearing in juvenile Court this week.

Poultry Raisers Must Pay Feed Tax, Court Rules

By LEON HATCH
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that poultry raisers must pay the two per cent use tax on feed they use in their business.

The Court upheld Pulaski Chancery Court in denying the petition of State Rep. F. A. Teague of Carroll County that the tax not be assessed against him.

The use tax is similar to the state, which would not be subject to change purchased outside the state, which would not be subject to the sales tax.

Teague said he was engaged in the business of raising chickens and turkeys for the commercial market; he buys day-old chickens and turkeys, feeds them only commercial poultry feed and then sells them when they reach broiler size.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion written by Associate Justice Ed F. McFaddin, rejected several contentions Teague made in seeking exemption from the tax.

League asserted that poultry feed was exempt under a section of the 1949 Use Tax Act which said there would be no levy against "tangible personal property used by manufacturers or processors of dis tributors for further proceeding, compounding or manufacturing."

League claimed that he is in fact a "manufacturer" or "processor" of poultry... "and that in reality the broiler is the complete product of the poultry industry."

Allen and Reilly went on to say that the Little Rock meeting did pass a general resolution of praise for all local chambers of commerce and other community units for the work they did on this year's "Week."

The idea of "Eat More Chicken Week" was exclusively for Arkansas—but it got the state nationwide publicity.

Longshoremen Remain on Strike

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
NEW YORK (UP) — Longshoremen, apparently continuing their wildcat strike in the face of federal contempt action refused to answer the work whistle a North River piers today.

Office workers had to handle the lines of the Cunard liner Mauretania for an 8 a. m. docking as several hundred dock workers stood across the street from the pier.

The International Longshoremen's Association (Ind.) which was enjoined against a truck cargo boycott last week and faces possible criminal contempt action for the walkout said it would although its officers insisted they hadn't called it, in the first place.

Ike Feels Excise Tax Cut Bill Goes Too Far

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders said at the White House today that President Eisenhower feels that a House bill to cut excise taxes nearly a billion dollars "goes a little too far."

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) talking to newsmen after the leaders' regular Monday morning conference with the President, said the administration hopes to get the proposed reduction figure pared down some when the measure reaches the Senate.

Martin added, however, that neither the administration nor GOP House leaders will make any effort to reduce the proposed cut in the House.

The speaker said the present plan is to call the bill up for debate in the House on Wednesday. The measure, in addition to cutting many excise taxes would continue beyond April 1 the present excise or sales levies on a number of items, including liquor, tobacco, gasoline and automobiles.

On other items the existing excise rate above 10 per cent would be cut back to that level.

At his news conference last week, Eisenhower indicated he might have to accept some reduction in excises even though he has spoken out against them at this time. The President said it some times is necessary to slough some castor oil along with the sugar coating.

After today's 2½-hour conference at the White House, Martin was asked about Eisenhower's current position regarding the excise cuts whether he had changed his attitude on the matter.

"I think the President shares with the secretary of the Treasury the idea that this proposed cut goes a little too far," Martin replied.

"They hope to reduce it some in the Senate."

Puerto Rico Rounds Up More Reds

By JULIO RIVERA
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, (AP) — Puerto Rican authorities completed their roundup of Nationalist leaders today and pressed a hunt for the "big four" of the island's Communist party.

Forty Nationalist party leaders and six Communists were arrested in sweeping police raids over the weekend and jailed on suspicion of subversion. Three more Nationalists were arrested today.

The included Mrs. Angeline Torresola Platell, a sister of Grisella Torresola who was killed in Washington when Nationalist gunmen tried to assassinate President Truman in 1950 another sister Doris Torresola, was already in jail. A party secretary, she was among five nabbed in a shooting fray Saturday along with Pedron Alibizu Campos, 62-year-old chief of the party.

The fanatical independence seeking nationalist group is estimated to have only 500 followers within the island commonwealth. The roundup of key leaders was launched just five days after Nationalists wounded five U. S. representatives with gunfire in Washington March 1.

The half dozen Communists were captured without violence in the second round of arrests yesterday.

Floyd C. Foster

Foster Realty company today announced that Floyd C. Foster has joined the firm, which has moved to its new home at 217 S. Main st. Mr. Foster will make his home in Hope.

While living in Dallas and Ft. Worth Mr. Foster was purchasing agent for a major oil company and later district manager for the Monroe Calculating Machine company. In making the announcement Vincent Foster said:

"I have personally known Mr. Foster for many years and it gives me pleasure to announce that he will represent Foster Realty company as salesman. He is experienced, qualified, and dependable."

Dulles Points to Guatemala as Dupe of Reds

By BEN F. MEYER
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — John Foster Dulles opened the 10th Inter-American Conference's debate on communism today, reading out to allegedly pro-Communist Guatemala the "established facts" about the international Communist movement.

Although the U. S. secretary of state emphasized that he was not accusing "any government or any person of being either plotters or dupes of plotters," he referred pointedly to Guatemala.

Recalling that Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello asked during last week's debate "what is international Communism," Dulles said:

"I thought that by now every foreign minister of the world knew what international communism is. It is disturbing if the foreign affairs of one of our American republics are conducted by one so innocent that he has to ask that question."

Toriello's violent criticism of the United States had previously brought the statement from Dulles that Guatemala's "abusive attack" would not be permitted to obscure the real issue: Communists interference in this hemisphere.

Toriello's speech led some here to predict that Guatemala would not support any anti-Communist resolution, although the Guatemalan foreign minister denied this in a statement issued yesterday. Dulles noted that not once in his 55 minute speech did Toriello denounce communism.

U. S. officials have accused Guatemala of following the Communist line and have charged that Reds occupy many positions of power and authority in that Central American country.

U. S. Gives Away $7.7 Billion in Ammunition

By John M. Hightower
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Congress today that in a little more than four years the United States has given $7,700,000,000 worth of guns, ammunition and other military equipment to straighten free nations against the threats of Soviet power.

The weapons supplied, he said, included 30,792 tanks and combat vehicles, 5,340 aircraft, 601 navy vessels and 2 million small arms and machineguns.

The figures he disclosed in the report on the Mutual Security Program covered the period from the beginning of military assistance in October 1949 through last December. He said that almost 60 per cent of the total was shipped during 1953.

The report pictured many nations as regaining economic health and depending less on American assistance.

But the President asserted that "as long as the harsh threat of world peace exists our country will continue to shoulder the heavy obligations of world leadership."

He said that military assistance and economic aid programs, though constantly revised, "cannot be drastically cut without unduly much of the rewarding success which has been so painstakingly and laboriously achieved."

Daughter Is Told Father Is a Woman

HOVE, England (UP) — The former wife of a British soldier whose sex has changed said today their older daughter knows that her father now is a woman.

Mrs. Henry Paul, formerly Mrs. Robert Cowell, said she broke the news to the girl after getting divorce in 1952.

"I've told the oldest daughter and she seems to have taken it quite well," Mrs. Paul said. "She doesn't really understand completely but I told her the best way I knew how and she is an intelligent girl."

Mrs. Paul had two children during her marriage to Cowell, who now is reported to be living in continental Europe as "Appia" both Cowell.

The British health ministry announced the Roberta Robert sex change Saturday and said the birth certificate had been altered accordingly.

Mrs. Paul said she thought Cowell was "only mentally erratic" when he occasionally showed a desire to wear women's clothes.

"I noticed no physical changes," she said.

Shortly after they were engaged Mrs. Paul said she learned that Robert had a "woman's intuition."

"I said yes when he asked me to marry him, but after a few weeks of our engagement I realized he was more than a little strange," she said. "He was spasms when he wanted to be a woman."

"I still loved him but his strangeness frightened me and broke our engagement. He used to insist on wearing women's clothes and sometimes, in secret, we would about together dressed alike like two girls students."

After the war, she said, Cowell "stopped being a normal man." They got a divorce and she has not seen her former husband in four years.

"My second husband is wonderful and kind to me," Mrs. Paul said. "We have one son and a baby on the way. All I want now is to forget about my first husband."

Miss McBride Ends Radio Career

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Margaret McBride, a radio personality with millions of radio listeners, will leave her daily broadcast slot on the radio after 20 years.

After a three-month vacation she will return to the radio on a weekly basis, but she will not be a regular.

"I sensed that in 20 years, in and day was enough," she said. "And my analysis of radio seemed a good time to make a break. I want to devote more time to writing my column and to do some other writing."

Though I love radio, I think it's things you can do with a pen, which is a different thing. I love the radio, but I want to do something else."

Mrs. McBride has been on a mission to help the poor and the sick in the western states and she has been very successful in her efforts.

Bing Crosby Hints at Retirement

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For many months, friends have been saying that Bing Crosby plans to ease into retirement. Today he gives some support to those statements. "I have about five or six more pictures to make for Paramount," he says, adding with a laugh, "that should be about enough for me."

You can't always cite a trend by a Crosby remark. He tosses 'em off with the greatest of ease and declines to be pinned down on anything. But he left no doubt that he favors a slackening of pace.

"I've always said that my favorite kind of picture would be one that opened with a shot of me sitting in a rocking chair on a front porch," he chuckles. "The rest of the picture would be what I saw."

His current film is his biggest dramatic challenge to date, but he said it is also one of his easiest chores. He is acting in the film version of the Clifford Odets play "The Country Girl." Bing does the role created by Paul Kelly on Broadway and portrayed by Robert Young on the road. The part is that of a faded, alcoholic stage star who has a last chance to regain theatrical fame.

Grace Kelly plays his suffering wife, and William Holden is the stage director who tries to mold him back into shape.

"They have to do most of the work," Bing said. "I'm the one they're always talking about."

There had been reports of protests of the casting of Crosby as a drunk in the film. "There's just one scene in which I'm supposed to get a little tipsy," he assured. "The rest of the time it is merely inferred."

Perhaps it was the prospect of leading a slower life. At any rate, I found Bing more relaxed and happy than I have ever seen him. He went through a scene with Miss Kelly and a boy actor who was portraying his son. The boy gave out with a few extra lines and Bing convulsed the set by cracking: "This kid pads his part worse than Hope."

Afterwards, he sat on a stool and chatted volubly, gossiping about the Academy Awards and other matters. I asked him if there were any pictures he would like to do.

"Not right now," he replied. "Three years ago, I wanted the studio to get 'Guys and Dolls' for me and Hope. Paramount owned part of it, but sold out for $65,000. Now I read the asking price is up to $750,000! Sam Goldwyn bought it for a million. I wish we could have done it here."

"I don't know if Hope and I will do a 'Road to the Moon.' We should have done it a couple of years ago. Since then Abbott and Costello have done a space picture, and Martin and Lewis will probably get in the act too. Who knows."

"I've always wanted to do a picture with Judy Garland. We've done a lot of radio programs and Army shows together, and I think she's the greatest female talent in town. As a matter of fact I think she's the greatest talent, male or female."

Bing said he still keeps up his recording schedule. On his lunch hour, he slips over to Decca and knocks off a side or two. The disc company is only a half block from Paramount, and it's very likely that it was so situated for Bing's convenience.

His radio show is up in the air right now. "There doesn't seem to be much money left in radio," he says. He has finished his second TV film and he may do more. But, as with everything else these days, he's in no great rush.

He will hit the half-century mark May 2. Part of his slowdown may be due to his physical shape. He admits he has a kidney condition, but he has no plans for an operation, as has been rumored.

Douglas Wins Houston Open

BY MAX B. SKELON

HOUSTON (AP) — Dave Douglas hadn't won a dime this year until he plucked a big one, the Houston Open's $6,000 top prize, and now is winter golf's second leading money winner.

The slender Grossinger, N. Y., pro won the winter tour's richest tournament yesterday by turning in his fourth day of subpar golf.

His 72-hole 277 was 11 below par and placed him two strokes in front of Memphis' Cary Middlecoff the defending champion and pretournament favorite.

Middlecoff's $3,200 runner-up money boosted his earnings for the year to $5,780.56 for first ranking.

Mrs. Zaharias Wins Sarasota Money

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Babe Zaharias made it two straight in the $3,500 Sarasota Women's Open Golf Tournament when she won the event yesterday with a 54-hole total of 223.

The victory was worth $875 to Mrs. Zaharias.

She was nine strokes in front of Patty Berg Chicago and Louise Suggs, Atlanta, Ga., who posted 232s. They won $500 each.

The tournament was halted by rain and wind Saturday after 27 holes and the final 27 holes were played yesterday. It was the first time Mrs. Zaharias had played 27 holes in one day since her operation for cancer last spring.

Red Tactics Change, Aim Remains Same

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today a year ago Stalin died, old and stubborn. The men he had trained to succeed him took over Russia. Any real change in that year? None. The tactics are different. The aim's the same.

Stalin had become too obviously brutal and inflexible. The new leaders are smoother. They've spent a year trying to undo, from the Russian view, the mischief Stalin caused. They've been pretty successful at it.

His mischief was not only in alarming the West into rearming by letting the Korean War start but then being incapable of doing anything to discourage the rearming.

The last thing the Russian wanted was a single West European army, called the European Defense Community which would include rearmen Germans and French. Stalin's tactics set EDC in motion.

As soon as he was out of the way his successors shifted tactics. They talked soft, expressed pious intentions, let the Korean War subside in an armistice.

Since many French didn't want Germans to rearm, even in a single army with them, the new Russian attitude gave them more excuse for delay in joining EDC. They still haven't acted to join. Without the French, there can be no EDC.

The new Kremlin men, headed by Malenkov and Molotov, have had some family trouble. They knocked off Lavrenty Beria, secret police chief, who was their No. 2 man under Malenkov after Stalin's death.

They've had internal purges. They've had some public setbacks, as in the June riots of the East Germans behind the Iron Curtain. They've promised the Soviet people more good things of life, probably to keep them quiet.

But they've had successes, besides helping delay EDC. They've had a hydrogen explosion which served at least one good purpose over here: It shook American planners out of any complacency about a long head start on Russians in making hydrogen bombs.

The Kremlin men seem to have turned a corner, at least for a time: instead of building up one individual as Lenin and Stalin were, they're putting more emphasis on the top Kremlin group.

So far the West hasn't been able to retrieve from behind the curtain a single inch of Communist real estate although refugees from communism still pour through.

Although neither the West nor Russia has yielded anything, the two sides in the past year have talked with each other, which may seem like some improvement over Stalin's last days, and will talk some more.

They talked at Berlin. The United States and Russia have had some talks in this country about President Eisenhower's plan for pooling some atomic material for peaceful purposes.

And the Western nations will meet in Geneva with the Communists — Russian, Chinese and North Korean — to talk about Korea and the Indochina war. Optimists say while both sides keep talking there's a chance for peace.

Maybe there is. But it will take some proving to show that anything vital has changed. The West and Russia are no nearer disarmament now than when Stalin was alive. That, for sure, seems a long way off.

Tech Pair Named All-Conference

CONWAY, Ark. — Two standout members of the Arkansas Tech crew that swept through the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball race without a defeat were named to the all-AIC team. The team, chosen by the coaches, was announced Saturday.

F. C. O'Neal was selected to a forward post, and Teammate Paul Martin was selected as a guard. Both are 6-2 juniors.

Carl Beavers of Arkansas State Teachers was the only senior named to the squad. The 6-4 sharp shooter was chosen as the center, rounding out the first team were sophomores Jimmy Culp of Southern State, and Bob Zaleski of Henderson.

Zoologists say the KIWI, New Zealand flightless bird never takes a drink of water unless it is sticky.

So The People May Know...

Eight years ago this month, Vincent Foster and Leonard Ellis, opened for business at 108 East Second Street, launching at that time the Foster-Ellis Realty Company, owned by Mr. Foster, and the Foster-Ellis Insurance Agency, jointly owned.

As a team, we worked together. We sold alot of real estate; handled alot of loans, and sold alot of insurance. As the years passed, we grew and prospered. We are deeply grateful for this business.

Over the past eight years our relationship has been most cordial and friendly. It is still that way. We intend to keep it that way.

By the spring of 1952, the insurance department had expanded to such proportions that it was demanding almost full-time attention of Leonard Ellis. A decision was made at that time, whereby Leonard Ellis purchased all of the insurance interest of Mr. Foster, and continued to operate the agency under the name of Foster-Ellis Insurance Agency.

Our business continued to grow and expand until larger quarters were needed. Another decision had to be made. It was decided that Mr. Foster would move his Real Estate department to 217 South Main street... and Leonard Ellis would continue at the same location at 108 East Second street.

All of the ten mutual insurance companies, plus one stock company, remains in the office of Leonard Ellis. No changes are being made, as these are the leading companies of the nation, all top-rated companies that have stood the test of time since 1863.

After Mr. Foster completes moving to new and remodeled quarters, the Insurance Agency will remodel its office and install brand new office equipment and furniture which has already been purchased and awaiting to be unpacked. Again, thanks for a very good business over the past eight years. My best wishes to Mr. Foster at his new location.

Class B State Tourney Gets Under Way

By The Associated Press

The first of Arkansas' two major basketball tournaments for high school boys opens at the 7,000-seat Barton Coliseum in Little Rock tomorrow.

District champions, and some runners-up, will clash for the Class B state championship.

Opening the first round of upper bracket tournament play tomorrow afternoon will be Luxora, the District 3 champ, and Clarendon, runner-up in District 6.

Other first day games pit Tiller, District 8S winner, against Ash Flat, champ of District 2N; Coal Hill, runner-up in District 4, against Delight, District 7W title holders; and Valley Springs, champions of District 1E, and against Bismarck, the District 5S winner.

First round competition is the lower bracket is scheduled for Wednesday.

Vilonia District 1N champ meets Oil Trough, winners in District 2N; Bono, runner up in District 3, takes on Watson Chapel, the District 8 titleholder. Farmington champion of District 1W clashes with Parkin, District 6 entry and Oden, the District 4 winner, plays Carthage, victor in District 7E.

Fayetteville and Bismarck reign today as kings of junior high school basketball in Arkansas.

Fayetteville edged DeQueen 42-41 Saturday night to win the Class A junior boys title, and Bismarck turned back Valley Springs 47-43 to capture the Class B crown.

In another major tournament, Fort Smith defeated Little Rock 51-47 to win the Big Seven Conference championship. Both teams will represent the conference, composed of the state's largest high schools, in the Class A senior boys state tournament at Jonesboro.

Here are the results of Saturday night's finals in the District competition:

District 1W Class B Senior Boys Farmington 56, Gentry 55

District 1E Senior Girls Bergman 57, Alpena 41

District 2 Class A Senior Boys Howie 76, Newport 64

Rice Can Grab NCAA Spot by Beating Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Rice can grab an NCAA Regional Basketball tournament spot tonight by beating the University of Texas.

The teams get together here for the second game in a best-of-three series to decide which goes to Stillwater, Okla., to represent the Southwest Conference.

The Owls beat the Longhorns 70-62 in the first game at Houston Friday night. This, of course, puts pressure on the Longhorns, but they've counted on the home court advantage tonight to get back in the running.

If Texas wins tonight, the deciding game will be in Waco tomorrow night.

The playoff was necessary because the two tied for the conference championship.

Texas is a decided underdog and Longhorn Coach Blue Hull may use a slightly revised lineup.

Another Longhorn worry is how to stop Gene Schwingler and Don Lance. Schwingler now has more than 500 points for the season. Lance is nearing 400.

The Owl held a 3-1 edge in games over Texas this season.

Printed electrical circuits which were used extensively in proximity fuses in World War II have been adapted to hearing aids says the American Hearing Aid Assn.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

TAMPA—Successful visits to the camps of the champion New York Yankees and the Chicago White American League flag.

If the Yankees are to be finally halted and the younger league saved from slow integration, the White Sox either will have to win the race themselves or give Cleveland a powerful lot of help. So you look at the two teams as they fired for the battle an you wonder if there is any real basis for comparison.

The difference is that when the Yankee regulars take the field you are looking at a stand-out ballplayer in nearly every position. In Manager Paul Richards' team you see outside the pitching box only one outstanding star who would be sure to break into the champion's lineup and stay there—outfielder Orestes Minoso.

Seldom on a confounding club at the Sox were for such of last season—has there been such a tremendous disparity between one man and the rest of the team as there was between the Cuban brilliant and his teammates. One wonders how General Manager Frank Lane even talked about getting tough with Minnie during their brief salary dispute.

Minoso led the Sox in batting with an average of .313. The club's next best was catcher Sherman Jollar at .287 — compiled in 113 games to Minoso's 151. Minoso knocked across 104 runs to Sam Mele's next best 82. His total bases, 259, compared to Jim Rivera's 238. His 15 home runs led Mele's 12. The club got rid of Mele during the winter incident.

Outside of that, all Minoso did was led the American League with 25 stolen bases, get hit by pitched balls an amazing 17 times for another league mark, and lead his own team in runs scored and slugging percentage. The few things he failed to lead in were not important.

In view of these facts and figures, the obvious conclusion is that Richards did a very fine job in managing his one-man club into third place, only 11 1/2 games off the top. Where the Sox would have

Gavilan Has Tuneup for April Bout

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan has his final tuneup tonight for his April 2 middleweight title fight with Bobo Olson.

The Cuban Flash faces veteran Livio Minelli again in a non-title 10 in Boston. Gavily outpointed the Italian in Cleveland 11 months ago.

Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore also shows his stuff this week. He goes after his 17th straight victory against bulky Bob Baker of Pittsburgh in a non-title 10 at the Miami Beach Auditorium Tuesday night.

Handsome Bobby Dykes, the Miami middleweight contender, is an 8-5 favorite to beat hustling Ralph ("Pige") Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., in a 10 at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena tonight. DuMont telecasts the 10 p. m., EST tussle.

Gil Turner, another middleweight contender, mixes with Bobby Jones, Crkland, Calif. veteran, at the Philadelphia Arena Wednesday night. The 10-rounder will be telecast by CBS starting at 10 p. m., EST.

Two 6-foot-3 heavyweights, Nino Valdes of Cuba and James J. Parker of Toronto, collide in the headline 10 at Madison Square Garden Friday night. Valdes, the No. 2 contender, is after his seventh straight win. Parker — has copped 17 in a row. ABC will broadcast and NBC will telecast the 10 p. m., EST, tilt.

Punchers are featured in the Saturday night television (ABC) fight. Joe Micelli, left-hooking New York welterweight who has flattened his last three opponents, meets Johnny Lombard of Mt. Carmel, Pa., at the Cincinnati Music Hall. The bout starts at 10 p. m., EST. Earl Walls, No. 7 heavyweight contender from Toronto, and Harry (Kid) Matthews, ninth-ranking heavy from Seattle, could fatten their records this week. Walls meets Freddie Beshore at Edmond, Monday. Matthews tiffs with Murray Burnett of Chicago at Spokane Tuesday.

The boys A tourney gets underway at Nashville Wednesday at 6:45 p. m. with Hope taking on Arkadelphia in the first contest, while Nashville plays Ashdown and Guadon tangles with DeQueen.

Jake LaMotta the old, Bronx Bull now a Miami resident, starts a comeback Thursday in Miami. The former middleweight champion meets Johnny Pretzie of Boston in a light heavyweight 10.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to lack of adequate space we are moving our Real Estate Office, and, to avoid confusion changing the name of the firm from Foster-Ellis Realty Company to:

FOSTER REALTY COMPANY

217 South Main Street

We want to thank our many friends and customers for their patronage during the past eight years and invite everyone to visit us at our new location.

Hope has the greatest possibilities of growth and development of any city in Arkansas. In expanding our facilities we are looking forward to a city of 25,000 population in the next few years, and hope to grow with Hope.

At our new location we offer a complete Real Estate sales service and property management of residential, commercial, ranch, farm and timber properties, with adequate loan facilities for G.I., FHA, and Conventional loans.

We take pleasure in announcing Floyd Fuller as our new Real Estate salesman handling all types of real estate properties.

Charlie Baker will still be handling Farm and Ranch sales.

We also wish Leonard Ellis, with whom we have shared office space the past eight years, a continued prosperous insurance business.

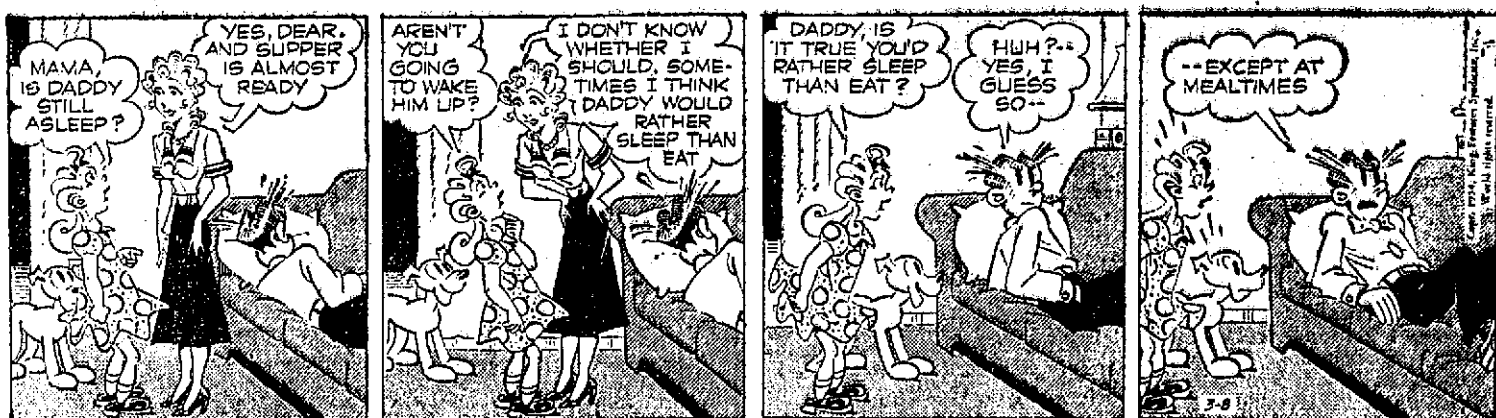

Our new office features a Hope product in Southern Plasterwood's new V-Board designed for wainscoting. We think it is very attractive and inexpensive. Come by and see it.
